To the extent permitted by law, patient rights may be delineated on behalf of the patient to his or her guardian, next of kin, or legally authorized responsible person if the patient: a) has been adjudicated incompetent in accordance with the law, b) is found to be medically incapable of understanding the proposed treatment or procedure, c) is unable to communicate his or her wishes regarding treatment, or d) is a minor. If there are any questions regarding the contents of this notice, please notify any staff member.

Patient Rights

1. Access to Care. You will be provided with impartial access to treatment and services within this practice's capacity and availability and in keeping with applicable laws and regulations. This is true regardless of race, creed, sex, national origin, religion, disability or handicap, or source of payment for care or services.
2. Respect and Dignity. You have the right to considerate, respectful care and services at all times and under all circumstances. This includes recognition of psychosocial, spiritual, and cultural variables that may influence the perception of your illness.
3. Privacy and Confidentiality. You have the right, within the law, to personal and informational privacy. This includes the right to:
 - Be interviewed and examined in surroundings that ensure reasonable privacy
 - Request transfer to another treatment room if a visitor is unreasonably disturbing
 - Expect that any discussion or consultation regarding care will be conducted discreetly
 - Expect all written communications pertaining to care to be treated as confidential
 - Expect medical records to be read only by individuals directly involved in care, quality-assurance activities, or the processing of insurance claims. No other persons will have access without your written authorization.
4. Personal Safety. You have the right to expect reasonable safety regarding the practice's procedures and environment.
5. Identity. You have the right to know the identity and professional status of any person providing services and which physician or other practitioner is primarily responsible for your care.

6. Information. You have the right to obtain complete and current information concerning your diagnosis (to the degree known), your treatment, and any known prognosis. This information should be communicated in terms that you understand.
7. Communication. If you do not speak or understand the predominant language of the community, you should have access to an interpreter. This is particularly true when language barriers are a continuing problem.
8. Consent. You have the right to information that enables you, in collaboration with the physician, to make treatment decisions.
 - Consent discussions will include an explanation of the condition, the risks and benefits of treatment, as well as the consequences of no treatment.
 - Except in the case of incapacity or life-threatening emergency, you will not be subjected to any procedure unless you provide voluntary, written consent.
 - You will be informed if the practice proposes to engage in research or experimental projects affecting its care or services. If it is your decision not to take part, you will continue to receive the most effective care the practice otherwise provides.
9. Consultation. You have the right to accept or refuse medical care to the extent permitted by law. However, if refusing treatment prevents the practice from providing appropriate care in accordance with ethical and professional standards, your relationship with this practice may be terminated upon reasonable notice.
10. Charges. Regardless of the source of payment for care provided, you have the right to request and receive itemized and detailed explanations of any billed services.
11. Rules and Regulations. You will be informed of the practice's rules and regulations concerning your conduct as a patient at this facility. You are further entitled to information about the initiation, review, and resolution of patient complaints.

This may include following the instructions of health care personnel as they carry out the coordinated plan of care, implement the physician's orders, and enforce the applicable practice rules and regulations.
